15th EASA conference in Stockholm, Sweden, 14-17 August 2018

EASA’s History of Anthropology Network submitted two panels for this conference; members of HOAN submitted three other panels and all 5 panels have been accepted.

Tuesday, 14 August, 10:30-15:00: P050 Writing the History of Anthropology in a Global Era [History of Anthropology Network] Convenors: Han Vermeulen (Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology) and Frederico Delgado Rosa (Universidade Nova de Lisboa) – Short abstract: This panel invites papers on authors, institutions and traditions relevant to the history of anthropology and ethnology, including museum and visual studies in the Global Era, taking off in the 18th century. <https://nomadit.co.uk/easa/easa2018/conferencesuite.php/panels/6314>

Papers will be presented by Herbert S. Lewis (University of Wisconsin-Madison, USA); Anne Byrne (National University of Ireland, Galway); Fabio Dei (University of Pisa, Italy); Peter Schröder (Universidade Federal de Pernambuco, Brazil); Patrick Laviolette (Tallinn University, Estonia); Simone De Angelis (University of Graz, Austria); Demetrius Eudell (Wesleyan University, USA); Ageliki Lefkaditou (Norwegian Museum of Science and Technology, Oslo); Dmitry Arzyutov (KTH Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm); Frederico Delgado Rosa (Universidade Nova de Lisboa, Portugal).

Wednesday, 15 August, 9:00-13:00: P049 The role of learned societies and associations in the creation and building of European anthropology [History of Anthropology Network]

Convenors: David Shankland (Royal Anthropological Institute, London) and Aleksandar Boskovic (Institute of Social Sciences, Belgrade) – Short abstract: This panel invites submissions that will consider the role of learned societies and association in the creation of anthropology in Europe. The panel is open to papers which consider the historical importance of learned societies and associations, as well as their contemporary significance.

<https://nomadit.co.uk/easa/easa2018/conferencesuite.php/panels/6502> Papers will be presented by David Shankland (Royal Anthropological Institute, UK); Vida Savoniakaite (Lithuanian Institute for History, Vilnius); Daša Ličen (Scientific Research Centre – Slovenian Academy of Sciences and Arts, Ljubljana); Nathaniel Knight (Seton Hall University, USA); Han Vermeulen (Max Planck Institute for Social Anthropology); Erik Petschelies (State University of Campinas, Brazil); Salma Siddique (University of Aberdeen, UK); Aleksandar Bošković (Institute of Social Sciences/University of Belgrade, Serbia).

Wednesday, 15 August, 9:00-13:00: P055 Making Knowledge Mobile: Knowledge Production and Transfer in/to/across/between Anthropology's Actors, Locations, and Performances.

Convenors: Hande Birkalan-Gedik (Goethe Universität, Institut für Kulturanthropologie und Europäische Ethnologie, Frankfurt am Main); Patrícia Ferraz de Matos (Universidade de Lisboa, Instituto de Ciências Sociais); Thomas Reinhardt (Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München, Institut für Ethnologie); and Blanka Koffer (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin, Institut für Europäische Ethnologie) – Short abstract: Translation and transfer of local knowledge(s) have always been a decisive feature of the anthropological enterprise. The panel analyzes different forms of "knowledge mobility" in anthropological theory and practice, from individual fieldwork to wider disciplinary and public contexts.

<https://nomadit.co.uk/easa/easa2018/conferencesuite.php/panels/6613> Papers will be presented by Pascale Hancart Petitet (Institut de Recherche pour le Développement, Montpellier); Jamie Saris (Maynooth University, Ireland) and Vanessa Carter (Healthcare Communications and Social Media, South Africa); Johan Nilsson (Stockholm University, Sweden); Elizabeth Hall and Todd Sanders (both University of Toronto, Canada); Elisabeth Timm (University of Münster, Germany); Patrícia Ferraz de Matos (Universidade de Lisboa,); Margarita Valdovinos (Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México); Céline Camus (IMF – CSIC, Barcelona).

Wednesday 15 August: HOAN business meeting, from 17:00 on.

Thursday 16 August, 9:00-13:00: P048 'Peripheral' Anthropologies of Europe. Their histories and intellectual genealogies [Europeanist network]

Convenors: Andrés Barrera-González (Universidad Complutense de Madrid); Lorena Anton (University of Bucharest); and Susana de Matos Viegas (Institute of Social Sciences, University of Lisbon) – Short abstract: This panel invites looking at ways of doing anthropology not within the mainstream, at 'peripheral' traditions in the discipline which are often overlooked. Like Renaissance endeavors such as the Spanish and Portuguese 'missionary anthropologies' or minor ethnologies from the peripheries of Europe.

<https://nomadit.co.uk/easa/easa2018/conferencesuite.php/panels/6489> Papers will be presented by Andrés Barrera-González (Universidad Complutense de Madrid) and Fermín del Pino-Díaz (Consejo Superior de Investigaciones-Científicas, Madrid); Florian Grafl (Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München, Germany); Hande A. Birkalan-Gedik (Goethe Universität, Frankfurt am Main); Michael Harkin (University of Wyoming, USA); Ildiko Kristof (Institute of Ethnology, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Budapest); Lazar Jovanović (Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität Münster, Germany); Auksuole Cepaitiene (Lithuanian Institute of History, Vilnius); Jurij Fikfak (Institute of Slovenian Ethnology, Research Center, Ljubljana); Joseph Grim Feinberg (Institute of Philosophy, Czech Academy of Sciences, Prague).

Friday, 17 August, 9:00-13:00: P030 On the move: Fieldwork, academy and home in the early anthropologists' careers. Convenors: Dorothy Louise Zinn (Free University of Bozen-Bolzano) and Grażyna Kubica-Heller (Jagiellonian University Kraków) – Short abstract: Focusing on the interconnections between geographical and social mobility, academic policy, forms of family and the gendered division of work, this panel examines the careers of early anthropologists — above all women — who were on the move in order to professionalize.

<https://nomadit.co.uk/easa/easa2018/conferencesuite.php/panels/6459> Papers will be presented by Adam Kuper (Boston University, USA); Gheorghita Geana (Academia Romana, Bucharest); Anna Engelking (Institute of Slavic Studies, Polish Academy of Sciences, Warsaw); Grazyna Kubica-Heller (Jagiellonian University, Kraków); Katja Geisenhainer (University of Vienna, Austria); Amurabi Oliveira (Federal University of Santa Catarina, Brazil); Marian Viorel Anastasoae (New Europe College, Bucharest); Blanka Koffer (Humboldt University Berlin); Daniela Salvucci (Free University of Bolzano-Bozen, Italy).

All dates and names are subject to change; all paper titles and abstracts can be found online.

Tamarozzi, Federica (Musée d'ethnographie de Genève) and Jean-François Bert (Université de Lausanne) 2018 Georges Amoudruz à Vercorin, Un folkloriste conséquent. Georges Amoudruz (1900-1975), folkloriste genevois, spécialiste des vallées alpines et du sillon rhodanien, élaborera une importante collection composée de milliers d'objets, de notes manuscrites, de dessins, de photographies, d'une bibliothèque et d'une iconothèque. Dans le cadre d'un réseau de recherche international (ANR La vie savante), avec l'aide de l'Université de Lausanne et des Archives de la ville de Genève, le Musée d'ethnographie de Genève est heureux de mettre à disposition de tous, par le biais d'une interface numérique, le premier terrain ethnographique qu'Amoudruz fit au début des années 1930 dans le village de Vercorin situé dans le Val d'Anniviers. C'est là qu'il inaugure sa future collection, qu'il découvre la dureté de la vie en alpage, qu'il explore les relations qui se nouent entre les hommes, les animaux et les paysages et qu'il observe les croyances et les superstitions des habitants de la région. Cet outil numérique, mis en ligne sur le site du MEG, en étant au plus près des descriptions d'Amoudruz, de ses dessins, de ses relevés cartographiques ou de ses photographies, recueillis directement sur le terrain, rend compte de l'importance de ce moment fondateur pour le folklore alpin. Conference in Budapest, January 2019: Staged Otherness, c. 1850-1939: East-Central European Responses and Context

Conference of the Central European University, Institute of Ethnology, RCH, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Institute of Archeology and Ethnology, and Polish Academy of Sciences, to be held in Budapest, 16-18 January 2019. Organizing committee: Kamila Baraniecka-Olszewska, Dominika Czarnecka, Dagnosław Demski, Ágnes Fülemile, László Kontler, Ildikó Sz. Kristóf. Abstract: The first conference (Warsaw, 25-27 October 2017) proved that there is an interest in this topic and space to investigate the issue in East-Central European context. The planned second interdisciplinary conference (Budapest, 16-18 January 2019) aims to discuss the issue of the diversity of ethnographic shows (ethnic shows, Völkerschau), human zoos, cirques, variétés, freak shows, and different forms of local shows where living people were presented in front of the audience. Our main point is to explore the nature of this phenomenon in Central and Eastern Europe, where the social, political, cultural and economic environment was decidedly different from the much-analyzed situation in Western Europe. The conference language is English. Please send the abstract (max. 200 words) of a 20-minute paper by 30 June 2018 to Dominika Czarnecka, d.czarnecka@hotmail.com. Call for Papers:
